2nd Generation Villager

Hello Villagers!
Wow, just like that the sun is out and it's hot as... well you know.

But at least we can say that summer is here, let the outdoor cooking begin. Isn't it the greatest smell in the world when the neighbors are grilling or bbq-ing?? The only thing better is when they invite you to partake, so Deb, Ken and Jan, come on over!

I miss our annual Village picnic, maybe we should have a giant block party or something. How about different blocks serve up different courses, for instance, lower Revere can have appetizers, and the 200-300s of Marlow provide salads and veggies, that sort of thing? Just a thought (of course you all know how great Good Gnus is for throwing ideas out there and then counting on someone else to make it happen). As long as someone makes homemade ice cream then we would be good to go. And it would be a terrific arena for the "Harvest Trade" that Amazing Human Deni has organized for us.

You all know about the fantastic Yahoo group that was established some years back for informing neighbors of safety issues, lost pets, and other pertinent information about SVHOA. But did you know that there is a newly formed Yahoo group for referrals and recommendations? Our own local version of Yelp! And this group needs as many members as possible, so if you are remotely internet savvy please sign up: <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/sheffield-village> and tell them Good Gnus sent you!

That is all for this month, fellow Villagers. Stay cool and enjoy the glorious sun, I hope to see you around the block all summer long.

As I have mentioned before, the Village has a big group of Second Generation Villagers. The list includes Simi, Yaen, Gould, Fredotavich, Wallace, Keller, Muller, Dore, Wardle, Diamond, Childs, Felix, Markison, Freeman, Pystor, Sherman, Wilson, Yang and Verela. But aside from the homes passed on to children from parents, we have also had the reverse. The pull of the neighborhood has been strong enough to draw in the parents of Villagers.

Judy Waldear found a house to rent for her mother. LaVine Davis convinced her mother to buy here. Murray Stokely had a rough commute to the Peninsula. He relocated to the West Bay, but had his mother move out from Tennessee and take over his beloved home. Such is the pull of this unique village.
